“ My grandmother was one of the strongest women I know. There's not many of us in the family that don't have a "Bertsie Clark" story. I have a lifetime of stories and memories. She did things her way. She has made me mad, cry, and absolutely roll in the floor laughing with tears in my eyes and I wouldn't trade one moment of it. The one that meant the most to me is when I would visit her. I would get ready to leave and I would say I love you grandma, and her reply was always " I know you do". So I won't say say goodbye, I will say I love you grandma and I will always in my mind hear " I know you do"

“ Grandma Clark as a lot of us grandkids called her was always very spunky and a lot fun. There was never a time I can remember when you had any trouble knowing what she was thinking because she had no trouble getting her point across. We will all miss her and for eternal peace.
