“ I am still in shock that you are gone. You will never know just how much you will be missed at the ball field. I wanted to let you just how much it meant to me on the times I couldn't make it to the games over the years that I knew Chad would be taken care of by you, even looked after as he was yours, given a drink or feed even if he said he was fine and yelled(always in a loving way) to "shake it off or you got this" It is so hard to believe I won't see your smile at the ball park my friend but I know you will be smiling down on the ballpark watching from the best seat in heaven. Rest in peace my friend and know you will always be in our hearts

“ I am still in shock that she is gone, I know you will still be watching over Rob and Jordan. You will never know just how much it meant to me to know when I couldn't make it one of the games over the years you would be also watching my baby boy playing also. Rest in peace my friend and know I will miss seeing your comforting smiling face at the games. I know you will still be watching over the games with the best seat of all of us, center stage of heaven.
