

Frances Hood

March 24, 2009

Mrs. Frances Nail Hood, age 92, of Dallas, Texas, formerly of Forrest City, Arkansas, died Tuesday at her home in Dallas. Her death came sudden and unexpected.

Mrs. Hood was born November 9, 1916, in Forrest City, and was the daughter of John Calvin Nail and Fannie May Shields Nail. She lived in Forrest City until moving in 1956, was a housewife, a bookkeeper, owner of Hood's Grocery and Meat Market and owner of Hood's Cleaners. She graduated from Forrest City High School where she was Salutatorian, and was a member of the First Baptist Church in Dallas.

Mrs. Hood married Erby Lee Hood and he preceded her in death in 1995 after fifty-five years of marriage. She is survived by one son, Mark Erby Hood and wife, Nancy, of New Braunfels, Texas, and two granddaughters; Rebekah Hood and Bethany Hood, both of New Braunfels, Texas, and a host of friends.

Services for Mrs. Hood will be held at Stevens Funeral Home Chapel, 11:00 A.M. Saturday, with burial in Forrest Park Cemetery. Visitation will be Saturday morning 9:00 A.M., until service time. Stevens Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements. You may log on to stevensfuneralhome.net for the on line registry. Memorials are to be made to: Criswell College, Office of Development, 4010 Gaston Avenue, Dallas, Texas 75246.
