“Joyce has been a treasured friend since childhood. Though life took us on different paths, I have thought of her often throughout the years. I spent many nights at the McCartney home visiting with her and her sisters although Sherry was just a baby then. Growing up together I have many memories that make me smile. I hate that I was not able to get together with her as she had been so sick since I found her again, but I'll always remember her as a special and wonderful person. Sleep peacefully my dear friend.

“I just want to say what an awesome example of family Mr. and Mrs. Feltman are. I know their daughter Holly and her husband, Mark, and I can see that they are carrying on into their home and the next generation, their own fine upbringing with their girls along with a strong sense of family and heart knowledge of Christain values. So I say bless you Joyce and we rejoice that your body is now whole and you are dancing on streets of gold and singing praises to our glorious creator and Savior--Most Sincerely, Lynn Hargis

“ I am so sorry for your loss. Joyce was such a super person. I am really going to miss her. She was a very special person. I am going to miss our long conversations in the store and the smile on her face. To the family, I know that there is not anything that I can say or do to make the pain any easier, just remember she is not suffering or hurting anymore and that god is taking very good care of her. You have many precious memories to hold on too. Rest in peace, Joyce. You will not ever be forgotten.
