“ My condolences to your closest family members...you will be greatly missed..i have blocked so much from my memory but i do remember the sneaking out the bedroom window and getting in so much trouble.and the dinners with all our family and things as a child...i just know as i was in prayer meetin that evening you were traveling to Heaven and as i was starring out the window on the ride to your mamas house and i seen the perfect image of you.. your skin glowing and a white gown and your arms wide open ..i believe you are now with the angels ..a piece of my heart goes with you..but i know you longed for your husband..now your there..you are gone in the flesh but your spirit will live on forever...rest with the Lord..may God bring peace to your mama .. daddy ..your sister and many more..love you sweet cousin..

“ The first time I ever saw you, you were being rocked at your grandma Like's house. Cutest little thing but fussy on that day. Several years later we moved here and you and my kids had some lets just say adventures together. My favorite picture from that time is you planting a big kiss on my son's cheek much to his shock and horror LOL. As an adult you were always the one to pick on someone much like your Uncle Norman and notorious for those on the cheek lick kisses which must run in the family cause your sister Mary has ben known to gift those out from time to time. You had such a kind caring heart for others but often not for yourself. You loved kids and they were drawn to you, never seen a little kid who didn't love you. The same went for animals. They say kids and animals have a sixth sense about people, flocking and trusting the good , that is what they felt in you..the good kind hearted soul. I will always love you, will cling to the memories and cherish the time God allowed you to spend with us. I believe today you are beside your beloved husband, brother , uncles, grandparents and holding your baby boy. I know you are cured of that evil cancer and victory is yours. I will miss you and I will never forget you Susie Q.
